The National Weather Service on Saturday morning changed the status of Hancock County from a hurricane watch to a hurricane warning area, with all local agencies prepared for the worst, yet hoping for the best.

Adam at a 9 a.m. meeting of Hancock, Cities of Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and local, state and federal support agencies said, "At this time, we have no mandatory evacuations, only voluntary, no open shelters, or special-needs facilities open, as the predictions indicate Dennis is to enter land around the Alabama-Florida line."

Hancock board member's arrest ends tie over coaches' jobs

Roster added to Thursday's agenda at the last minute

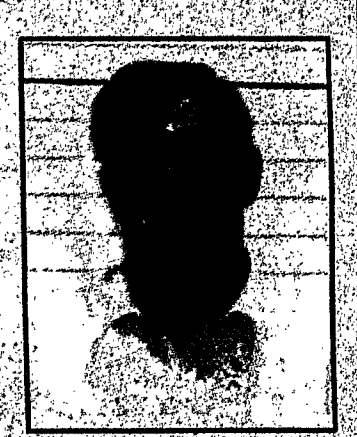

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

In a two-to-one vote Thursday — with Board member Christopher "Packer" Ladner absent — the Hancock County School Board approved the coaching roster and the rehiring of district coaches. Board members had been deadlocked over the issue, which had become a growing controversy in the district.

During the board's first June 2005 meeting, Packer Ladner made a motion to exclude Michael Ladner, head basketball coach, and Andy Penicaro, head baseball coach.

The motion was made incorrectly, and came up for another vote at the board's next June meeting. Packer Ladner and Rose Acker voted for the exclusion of the coaches, while Morgan Ladner and Peggy Ladner voted against. The motion failed 2-2. When the board voted on the original list, the motion again

"I'm hoping it's just a big misunderstanding," Hancock County School Board member Christopher "Packer" Ladner said Saturday of his arrest just moments before Thursday's board meeting. "As far as I know, it will all be straightened out when I go to court."

Ladner was driving to the board meeting Thursday when he was pulled over by Constable Terry Necaise. After running a background check,

Leadership Hancock County announces 2004/2005 graduates

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Participants in the 2004/2005 Leadership Hancock County program recently concluded the program that spanned ten months covering a multitude of topics including leadership skills building sessions. Leadership Hancock County is a program that was introduced by the Hancock Chamber in 1996 to identify and prepare the community's existing and future leadership resources. The 2004/2005 Class is the third class to graduate from the program.

During the final banquet, the keynote address was delivered by one of Mississippi's great visionary leaders, George Schloegel, President & CEO of Hancock Bank. Schloegel delivered a powerful participatory message citing Ancient Text.

He noted that the masters in the art of living make little distinction between their work and their play, their mind and their body, their education and their recreation, their love and their religion. "They hardly know which is which," he said.

"They simply pursue their vision of excellence in whatever they do, leaving others to decide whether they are working or playing. To them, they are always doing both."

Later that evening, the class elected Susan Veglia, CPA of Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission, and Jeffrey Larson of Dupont Delisle to represent them as members of the newly formed Leadership Hancock County Board. Other members of the board include: Tim Kellar, Chancery Clerk of Hancock County; Jon Ritten of Coldwell Banker-Coast Delta Realty; Chuck Ueltschey of Mississippi Power Company; Tish Williams, Director of the Hancock Chamber; and David Holman, Charter Mortgage.

David Holman, Chairman of the Board for Leadership Hancock County said the program is now re-established as an annual program of the Hancock Chamber.

Participants must be residents of Hancock County or employed in Hancock County.

To be considered for selection in the program, you must submit an application to the Hancock Chamber, which is seeking candidates for the 2005/2006. Program through August 1, 2005. Eight day long sessions run from September through May with the final graduation banquet in June.

"The goal of this program is to provide Hancock County with a network of current and emerging leaders who possess the skills, and the sense of commitment to improve our community," he said.

David Malley, owner of Malley Store All, Prestige Fitness and Malley Appraisal Services participated in the 2004/2005 in the program and completed all the necessary work to receive Leadership Certification. "As a small business owner, I did not think I had the time to devote to this program each month," he said. "After each class, I was so thankful I had taken the time off to participate in this worthwhile program. It was a great experience."

Many of the participants commented that there were many benefits, including networking, that made participation worthwhile. Sessions included field trips focusing on government, economic development, education, smart growth, and quality living. Informative sessions were led by local leaders such as: Hal Walters, who chaired the Economic Development Session; Ron Magee, chair of the Smart Growth Session; Dr. Sherry Ponder, chair of the Education Session; and Janet McQueen, who chaired the Quality of Life session. All are graduates of Leadership Hancock County.

"As a group, we learned about what we want Hancock County to become for ourselves, our children and our children's children," said Holman. "We discussed many topics and through the process we identified specific changes, improvements and plans we have in mind to make Hancock County an even better place to live," he said.

Ken Blanchard in his book Leadership Smarts says "Leadership is not something you do to people. It is something you do with people."

"Each member of this class is looking at ways we can contribute to accomplishing the needs of our community," said Holman.

The Leadership Board is seeking a balance of participants according to business and professional interest, geography, race and gender. Preference is given to candidates who, in addition to their potential for leadership, will contribute to the overall diversity and strength of the class and have available time and resources to commit to the program and future community service.

Graduates of the 2004/2005 class include: Jody Compretta, Patients Choice; Amy Corr, Hancock Bank; Debbie Donaldson, Community Volunteer; Marilyn Finch, Whitney National Bank; Kay Gough, Godwin Group; Corky Hadden, Capital Management; David Holman, Charter Mortgage; Regan Kane, John McDonald Realty; Carolyn Kennedy, NASA Stennis Space Center; Jeffrey Larson, Dupont of Delisle; David Malley, Real Estate Appraiser; Elizabeth Messer, NASA Stennis Space Center; Cheryl Ramseyer, Hancock County Schools; Steve Seymour, Hancock County Board of Supervisors; Brandon Slocum, Hancock Medical Center; Kim Stasny, Bay Waveland Schools; Millie Usher, Clermont Harbor Civic Association; Susan Veglia, Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission;

New Orleans man faces 'drug and traffic' charges

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A New Orleans resident faces charges of possession of a controlled substance in addition to traffic charges following a traffic stop early Saturday morning, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Narcotics Division Director Major Matt Karl said, "Gregory J. Smith, 57, of New Orleans was arrested a little after 2:45 a.m.

Saturday on Highway 607, following a traffic violation stop and faces drug and traffic charges."

"Smith was observed crossing the center line of the highway several times. Deputy Steve Saucier made a traffic stop. During the deputy's interview, Smith was uncooperative and began to become hostile. Back up was requested," Karl stated.

"Looking into a glass ash-tray with a flashlight through a window, Saucier noticed drug paraphernalia. A further search revealed an off-white rock substance which tested positive as rock cocaine. When questioned if there were any other drugs in the vehicle, the driver said yes," Karl added.

Karl continued, "Deputies found four small bags of marijuana. Smith was charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver, in addition to traffic charges. He was lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility with a bond of $6,500 set. Agent Clifton (Bubba) Malley is in charge of the case."

"Saucier received back up from Lt. Jimmy Esposito and Deputy Mary Costa in making the arrest.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Hopefully, Dennis won't be a menace

Hurricane Dennis is on the minds of thousands as it churns in the Gulf of Mexico.

Just last week we were all worried about Tropical Storm Cindy and today it is a monster named Dennis.

Weather forecasters are doing the best they can in trying to predict the course of the very, very strong hurricane.

All emergency agencies along the coast from Florida through Louisiana have been on edge, hoping Dennis does not visit them.

On Friday, and this was good, it seems a lot of folks in our area were very busy in making initial preparations in case evacuations become necessary.

As I am writing my column Friday afternoon, no one really knows for sure where Dennis will make land fall.

So, it is a guessing game. For sure, if you are in a low lying area, you really need to be prepared to move out in the storm heads our way.

Preparations are never too early.

All of our government agencies, as well as many businesses have been having special meetings to go over plans in case Dennis comes here.

You really need to keep abreast of the storm's movement. Best of luck to everyone.

It is good to know our Hancock County Board of Supervisors has drafted a noise ordinance and are seeking citizen input.

Under the new ordinance noise emanating from audio systems, motor vehicles, boats, motor cycles, motorized systems and other devices may not emanate more than 50 feet from the vehicle. Also audio equipment may not emanate more than 50 feet from a residence.

There are times when I can hear audio systems emanating blocks from a vehicle. The drivers of the vehicles must have a hearing problem, or they are going to develop one.

The ordinance also prohibits owners or keepers of domestic or non-domestic animals or fowl to allow those animals to make frequent or continuing noise that disturbs a person of reasonable sensitivity.

The ordinance does not apply to emergency equipment, church bells or chimes, noise from construction demolition activities.

There are also hours in which some noises are prohibited.

A copy of the ordinance is available at the Hancock County Board of Supervisor's office.

Are we a nation of laws or judges?

Last month, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the government can take your property - not for "public" use like a new road, bridge or basic public infrastructure, as the Fifth Amendment proscribes - but for private use. In Kelo vs. New London, the nation's highest court upheld a city's condemnation of perfectly good, blight-free homes to make way for private developers to build a health club. The message: As long as a use generates more tax revenue than your use does, it's okay for a local government to condemn your property, even on behalf of a private concern. This case joins a litany of recent decisions inconsistent with America's traditions, and I hope Mississippians will join me in fighting them.

First, we can fight by getting involved in the effort to confirm judges who will interpret the law, rather than make it. Judges who have decided that our Constitution is a living, breathing document that changes or evolves over time are the root cause of troublesome decisions like this. With their flawed view of a Constitution that bends like Play Dough, they have taken it upon themselves to write their own laws, essentially bypassing you and your elected representatives.

By applying that approach to this case, not only have they expanded their own power, they've given city or county officials huge new authority to determine your destiny - whether you can own your property or not. In fact, a private concern that wants your house out of the way doesn't even have to prove their development will result in more tax revenue. The mere prospect of increased taxes is enough for local officials to compel you to sell it.

In effect, the Fifth Amendment, which has always allowed the government to pay the fair market value for private property needed for reasonable public uses, has been amended. The justices basically just marked out the world "public" and inserted the term "any." As a result, there now is no distinction between private and public property ownership. Clearly, it's time to change the makeup of our Supreme Court, and the July 1 retirement of swing vote Justice Sandra Day O'Connor provides the first opportunity. When the next Supreme Court nomination is sent to the Senate by President Bush, I hope

Americans will insist of their Senators that any court nominee by one who interprets the law rather than makes it.

In addition to shaping the court's composition, the Senate also can work within the legislative process to offset questionable decisions like the eminent domain ruling. I already have joined with other Senators to introduce legislation aimed at protecting private property rights from this court decision. After all, if we fail either to get good judges on the bench or to address this problem through legislation, the Supreme Court's recent questionable rulings could continue.

The eminent domain property case isn't this court's only bizarre decision of late. In McCreary County vs. ACLU of Kentucky, the court struck down the display of the Ten Commandments in a Kentucky courthouse. The majority on the court said the display had a "predominantly religious" purpose, even though it was part of a permanent display with other non-religious documents that are the foundations of our judicial history and tradition.

Contrast that decision with Van Orden vs. Perry on the same day, where the court upheld the legality of a Ten Commandments monument erected by a civic organization on the Texas State Capitol grounds. In this case the court majority said this display was reflective of American history, and the justices even acknowledged the multitude of Ten Commandments displays in government buildings across the country. I guess that includes the statue of Moses atop the Hinds County Courthouse.

We need to take back America

What has happened to our Supreme Court system? Corporate America can take away our rights to own property, the 10 Commandments are okay here, but not there, police do not have a "duty" to protect a person from harm...Excuse me! Am I reading and hearing properly? Did someone steal me during the night and put me in the twilight zone? This would make a great episode!!

We have to take back America! This has got to be a grass roots plan on a nation-wide level. And who is Justice Antonin Scalia? I keep seeing this name pop up in the midst of all this craziness. I can't just sit here at my table, drink my coffee and shake my head! This is madness - this is communism at its best!

People, please, before this goes any further; get those computer keys clicking, get the poison pens out. Forget about abused dogs, road rage, and the price of gas, keep these Supreme Court decisions in the forefront until sanity returns to America.

Eminent Domain?

Re: Kelo v. City of New London

I wish to bring to your attention the possible local application of the above referenced case. There is presently a coordinated effort all along the Mississippi Gulf Coast to expand water front commercial enterprises, primarily concerned with the building of condominiums and casinos.

It is apparent that Kelo may be used to acquire water front property under the guise of eminent domain, even when the present owners are opposed.

It is strongly urged that Mississippi quickly join the existing eight states that have prohibited the use of eminent domain to acquire private property except for "public use" in the traditional sense.

Everybody won something Saturday night at Bay City Grill. Tara Talbort won the fanciest BBQ grill in the world. Hope Haven children received a check for $3,000 which is a dollar for every child Hope Haven has served since opening it's shelter in 1996. Captain Vincent, his Executive Chef and his entire staff won the respect of the community and the thanks of the Hope Haven Board of Directors.

The two month long fund raising event was a huge success. Bay City Grill staff competed to see who could sell the most tickets with the winning staff person winning $50 for selling over 150 tickets. The money will go toward the daily operating expenses of the shelter for abused and neglected children.

"Our thanks to the Bay City Grill and their entire staff," commented Greg Kothmann, Hope Haven Treasurer. "The icing on the cake is that Bay City Grill has decided to make this raffle an annual fund-raiser for us!"

All students expecting to attend Bay St. Louis-Waveland Schools in the 2005-2006 school year must register at the school to which they are assigned. Registration will be on July 25 through July 27, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., with staff available on Tuesday, July 26, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Students who have not registered prior to the first day of school will not be assigned a schedule. Students report for their first day of school on Friday, August 5. Students who do not know which school they are to attend should call the Central office at 467-6621. Students who enter first grade must be 6 years old on or before September 1, 2005; kindergarten students must be 5 years old on or before that date.

Each new student must bring to registration the certificate of immunization from the Health Department or local physician, a copy of their birth certificate, and their Social Security number. A report card or other record of grade placement is necessary to make official grade level assignment.

New students enrolling in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Schools will not be permitted to register unless residency has been verified through proper documentation. Parents must provide the school with a copy of two of the following items for verification of residency: filed Homestead Exemption application form; mortgage documents or property deed; apartment or home lease; utility bills; driver's license listing present address; voter precinct identification; automobile registration; or an affidavit of residence.

Returning students who have moved since the previous school year must provide 2 proofs of residence upon registration. No student will be permitted to attend classes until all registration forms have been completed and properly

The monthly meeting of the Pass Christian Art Association will be held Saturday, July 16, at 2 p.m. in the Community Room of the Pass Christian Library. The guest artist will be photographer Richard Kopp who is known for his ghost-like images of Civil War battle scenes. He will address the art of using double exposures and other photographic techniques he uses to produce these awesome scenes and will show numerous photographs to illustrate the results. Guests are welcome and there is no charge. For information call Ernie Allison at (228) 452-4188.

So here we have a court which says that it's okay for governments to take your private property and give it to other private property owners. And, we have a court which says that a permanent Ten Commandments display coupled with our other historic documents is "too religious," while a stand-alone temporary display of the Ten Commandments by the civic club on the courthouse lawn is not and actually is consistent with all the other fixed Ten Commandments displays in public buildings.

With the approach of Hurricane Dennis to the Gulf Coast, the maritime community and boating public are strongly urged to monitor its progress and take early action to protect themselves and their vessels.

Mariners are urged to secure their vessels for Hurricane Dennis. The time to take action is now. As seen during Hurricane Ivan, those who heeded the warnings of Coast Guard and local law enforcement authorities were able to keep themselves, and first responders, out of jeopardy.

Mariners should take necessary precautions to ensure their personal safety should a storm or hurricane approach. Extremely high seas, heavy rains and damaging winds that accompany tropical storms and hurricanes present serious dangers to mariners. Rescue and assistance by the Coast Guard and other agencies may be severely degraded or unavailable immediately before, during and after a devastating storm.

Drawbridges along the coast may deviate from normal operating procedures prior to a storm. They are generally authorized to remain closed up to eight hours prior to the approach of gale force winds of 34 knots or greater and whenever an evacuation is ordered. Because of the uncertainty of weather movements and related bridge closures, mariners should seek passage through drawbridges well in advance of the arrival of gale force winds. When in doubt, check in advance with the local Coast Guard marine safety office.

generated by a hurricane can cover an area hundreds of miles wide. Even those recreational boaters and the maritime industry who fall outside of the direct path of the storm are advised to be cognizant of dangerous weather conditions and take appropriate precautions to stay safe and minimize damage. Here are a few tips to help mariners protect themselves, their families and their vessels:

 Do not go out to sea in a recreational boat if you know a hurricane is approaching.

Contact local marinas to ask for advice about securing your vessel. Marina operators are knowledgeable and can advise you on the best methods for securing your boat.

 Take action now. The effects of a hurricane can be felt well in advance of the storm itself and can prevent the safe completion of preparations.

 Check with local authorities before entering any storm-damaged area. Do not rush to your boat. Boaters should not place themselves in danger to get to a boat.

 Do not try to reach your boat if it has been forced into the water and is surrounded by debris. Wait until authorities have made safe access available. Do not try to board a partially sunken boat; seek salvage assistance from a professional.

Catch of a lifetime!

Eight-year-old Paton Kame, of Diamondhead proudly displays his "lifetime" catch of a 35 pound bull red, he caught while fishing with his grandfather Jimmy Harvill, Jr. and granduncle David Harvill in the Pearl River on June 25. The young lad almost landed in the water as the big red struck the live mullet he was using for bait, but his grandfather held him in the boat by grabbing his shirt. Paton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kame. The youngster also caught two smaller legal size reds on the trip. According to his grand uncle, "All he wanted to do when he returned home was go to bed. Too bad he was one Saturday before the Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo to make the big catch."

JCJC football program would like your help

Jones County Junior College football coach Parker Dykes and former coaches, Sim Cooley, and A.B. Howard, have undertaken the project of finding team photos of all Jones County Junior College football teams for display in the new Bobcat field house. The JCJC football program spans the years from 1929 until present and many of the pictures have been lost during that time.

It is hoped that former players or their family members who have copies of the missing pictures would help complete the collection. The years missing are 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1945, 1949, 1951, 1958, 1964, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1978, 1980, 1987, 1990 and 1991. All missing photos will be scanned into a computer file for later reproduction and returned to the owner immediately.

Anyone who has a copy of one of these team pictures and is willing to share it with the JCJC Football program can do so by calling Tracy in the JCJC Alumni Office at 601-477-4145 or toll-free to 1-866-WE-R-JCJC (1-866-937-5252). Your assistance with this project will be greatly appreciated.

Ionatron, Inc. unveils the latest weapon in the war on terror at Stennis Space Center

Barbour: Device will save lives, make Mississippi known for advanced technology

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

There's a new weapon in the war on terror — and it's made right here in Hancock County.

Ionatron, Inc. on Thursday unveiled its new Joint IED Neutralizer (JIN) for federal, state and local officials including Congressman Gene Taylor and Gov. and Mrs. Haley Barbour, the media and top military brass.

"IED" is military jargon for "improvised explosive device," basically a roadside bomb planted by a terrorist or insurgent to injure and kill troops or civilians indiscriminately.

Field reports indicate that IEDs account for a vast majority of the deaths and injuries suffered by American troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. The JIN operates remotely and uses controlled, directed energy — basically "man-made lightning," according to Ionatron CEO Thomas Dearmin — to destroy IEDs, with the troops safely out of harm's way.

"It's a very big deal to all our men and women in uniform," Dearmin said Thursday, "and we took that to heart and worked very diligently."

Dearmin said that 12 of the units will be in-country in Iraq within the next 40-

60 days, including six heavy-duty and six light-duty units. Several hundred more are already in development, he said. The prototype only took about seven weeks to produce. The heavy-duty units are heavily armored to protect them against gunfire and other interference from insurgents. The light-duty units are quick and nimble, and meant to clear a path for our troops as quickly as possible.

Dearmin said the JIN was a product of cooperation between Ionatron and the military services.

The project began after the military asked him if the core technology Ionatron is developing — Laser-Induced Plasma Channel technology (LIPC) — could be used to disable bombs instead of personnel. LIPC technology uses the conductive plasma formed when laser filaments pass through the atmosphere. The conductive plasma, according to a company press release, "acts like a highly efficient virtual wire for the transmission of electrical energy." That energy is precisely controlled in terms of direction, range and power and has both lethal and non-lethal applications.

Dearmin on Thursday thanked the military, as well as Stennis Space Center and Gov. Barbour for their efforts.

Major Anthony Smith and Sgt. 1st Class Mark McCrory, both of the 890th Army National Guard Engineering Battalion and currently stationed in Gulfport, served in Iraq for more than a year, returning home in March 2004. Both men said Thursday that they were excited by the potential of the JIN.

"I think it's wonderful," Smith said. "It's remote-controlled, so you don't have to put a soldier's life in direct risk. ... It's basically a weapon we've never had before."

"I think it allows the playing field to be more even. We can fight any enemy if we can identify him. IED's, it's hard to identify them."

"Literally, on the day I was inaugurated," Barbour said, "somebody came up to me and said there was a company wanting to come to Mississippi ... to build the most advanced weapon in the history of the world — and this was in the daytime. Nobody had been to a cocktail party, yet."

Barbour said Ionatron's efforts were going to help Mississippi "get in front of the economy ... to become a state known for advanced technology."

"The defensive weapon of the future is made in Mississippi today," he said, "and that's what we want Mississippi to stand for. We want people to say 'You know that device that's saving lives? That's made in Hancock County, Mississippi.'" failed 2-2, thereby causing all of the coaches to not be rehired.

The item was added to Thursday night's agenda at the request of board President Morgan Ladner at the start of the meeting. All three board members present voted to approve the roster.

Also on Thursday, the district held a hearing Thursday to solicit comments on its proposed $33,716,198 budget for the 2005/2006 school year. The proposed budget represents an increase of $2,242,676 over last year's budget. Business officer Lynel Necaise told the packed room that because of new figures she received Thursday from the tax assessor's office, that the increase would not result in any increase in millage. New construction and incoming businesses will generate over $300,000 in additional ad valorem funds, Necaise said.

The district expects to receive about 35 percent, or about $10.7 million, of its total budget revenues from local ad valorem taxes, keeping millage rates at 47.64 mills, the same rate as last year. About 78 percent or 36.61 mills will go for school operations including instructional supplies, transportation, utilities, janitorial services, office expenses, and local teacher supplements. About 22 percent or 11.03 mills will be used for debt service.

About 91 percent, or around $971,623 of state funding comes in the form of MAEP funds. According to a legislative formula, shows the district as close to $700,000 below full funding.

Funding is based on student average daily attendance from the months of October and November of the 2nd. preceding school year multiplied by a statewide student cost plus at-risk funding based on free lunch participation.

Salaries and benefits for the district's 550 employees account for 69.69 percent, or $22,697,447.57 of next year's budget. Out of that number, about 73 percent goes for direct instruction. The remaining 27 percent goes for salaries of administrators, office staff, technical support, bus drivers, cafeteria workers and other personnel. Debt service accounts for 8.59 percent or $2,855,217 of the 2005/2006 budget. Professional and purchased services account for another 11.72 percent or $3,817,944.

A question was raised about the district's bidding policy concerning a million dollar hauling contract held by Moran Hauling, Inc. Board member Peggy Ladner said that the contract was renewed without a bid because the new contract did not include an increase in price for services. The contract price was very competitive and well below a local allotment that allows local contractors to come in with bids up to 5 percent above non-local contractors and still be considered a low bid, Ladner said. New district policy will require contracts to be rebid every three years, said board member Morgan Ladner.

The budget is set to be approved July 18 at 10 a.m. Anyone wishing to comment should do so before that date.

Dennis -- getting prepared

Adam emphasized, "The general public needs to be alert and keep abreast by news reports of the storm's progress, in case there is a change in the path."

"Hancock's EMA keeping in constant contact with the weather service in case the storm's predicted path changes. We will meet again at 3 p.m. today (Saturday) to discuss further up dates."

The hurricane warning issued by the National Weather Service stretches from the East Pearl River in Hancock County to West of the St. John River in Florida.

Adam said there is a low-pressure area that weather forecasters feel will help Dennis continue its current course.

Hancock's EMA has been on duty on a 24-hour-a-day basis for several days and will continue until the storm leaves the area, Adam said.

On Saturday evening, there should be an increase in tides in Hancock and then early Sunday morning, when the winds change to the north, water levels should be pushed out, according to the reports thus far received by Adam.

Hancock's EMA personnel only had a one-day break from being fully prepared for Tropical Storm Cindy which came through the area Monday night.

Winds during Cindy were in the 60-mile-per-hour category.

Adam said he believes that with the current path of Dennis, winds would be a bit less than those in Cindy.

All Hancock EMA agencies were represented at Saturday morning's meeting, and also included Oscar Barnes, American Red Cross Gulf Coast director, in addition to John Harrison, representing Mississippi

Emergency Management Agency (MEMA).

Later in the morning, Jason Anderson of MEMA was scheduled to arrive.

Among the messages released by Hancock's EMA and other agencies since Friday afternoon include:

* The Mississippi Highway Patrol is asking citizens not to park in the median of Highway 603 due to hazardous conditions it may cause. Parking on the sides of Highway 603 will be allowed and MPH is urging citizens to be careful while parking and their vehicle is completely off the road.

* The Hancock County Arena on the Kiln-DeLisle Road is taking RVs and boats. Please park on the East side. The West side is for worker's trucks.

* Special Needs Shelters. (If one opens), has limited space available. So do not delay your decision to go to a shelter. If a caregiver is needed, the caregiver from your home must accompany the patient and stay with the person at the shelter. If you or any member of your family has special needs, make sure American Medical Response has your information.

Hancock Medical Center advises not to be admitted to the hospital because you are a special-needs patient. The hospital has limited space available and must be prepared to provide care to persons injured or required to receive acute care in a hurricane disaster event.

* If you plan to stay in a shelter (if one opens), make sure they will accommodate your medical needs. Contact the Emergency Management Agency office (228-467-9226) to be sure. Remember that in shelters you need to bring your own medical supplies as well as bedding, food and drinks. Shelters may also lose power.

* Hancock County Justice Court will be open next week, but will not have court.

* From the Mississippi Department of Transportation - Due to the probability that Mississippi could be affected by the impact of Hurricane Dennis, MDOT will be providing accurate information relating to road closure throughout the state on our web site at www.goMDOT.com.

* From the Mississippi Department of Transportation - Due to severe traffic congestion during an evacuation of the Gulf Coast last year, MDOT announces the following changes for the 2005 hurricane season.

In order to relieve Highway 49, the following changes will go into effect ONLY IF the Governor orders a mandatory evacuation OR if traffic volume is overwhelmingly increasing.

Northbound traffic on Highway 49 will NOT be allowed to exit at either Highway 98 or I-59.

Northbound traffic on Highway I-59 can exit ONLY at Highway 11 (Exit 60) or westbound onto Hardy Street/Hwy 98 (Exit 65).

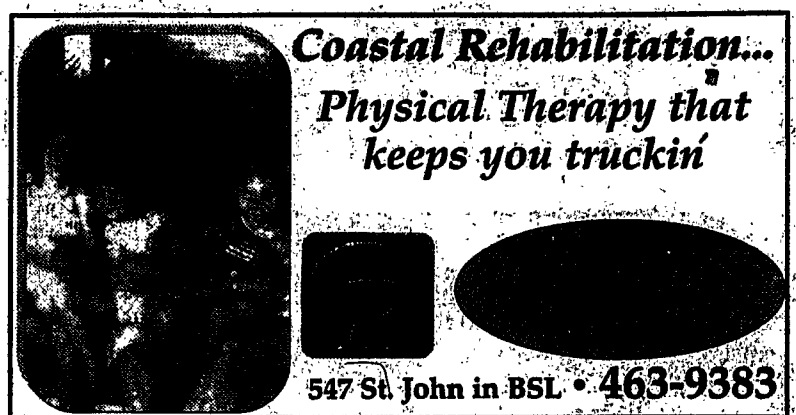

Westbound traffic on Highway 98 will NOT be allowed to exit onto Highway 49, and will be forced to merge onto I-59.

* From the Catholic Diocese of Biloxi - All pastors of Catholic churches in the Diocese of Biloxi are free to cancel Masses this weekend. No Catholic is expected to attend Mass this weekend. All are urged to protect themselves and their loved ones.

(Stella is spelling me this week. She wrote this just before her knee surgery. She should be back wade fishing in August.)

The nice, cool breezes that float in from the Mississippi Sound in early spring are gone. They're being replaced by the humid breezes of summer with stickier, hotter days and balmy, still nights. Along with all this comes the saving grace that good seafood is becoming more easily available. Now the cry is, I'm going fishing in the morning and see what I can catch for lunch or dinner. If luck, and the tide, is with me, I'll catch a nice trout or a flounder or two and we'll grill them for the day's big meal.

It doesn't have to be grilled and served hot. There are a lot of ways of serving seafood and enjoying it on a summer day. Think beyond the grill. Think about the fish served as a chilled dish. It is still fresh, still good and now it becomes refreshing as a light summer dish to eat and enjoy. Cold pasta is also good to mix with all that fresh, chilled seafood will make it still more wonderful. Add to that some fresh vegetables and herbs from your own garden and suddenly life is not bad in the hot and humid south.

To combat the hot weather, I make more and more salads, and cold seafood meals to satisfy our appetite. Heavy soups, pot roast and the like can wait till the chill of winter sets in. Cold meals can be very versatile and include such things as salads, spreads, poached fish and, of course, chilled steamed crabs. I like steaming my crabs. The steaming allows the seasonings to permeate the crabs and make a tasty snack for the late afternoon or dinner meal. If you have just a few, serve them as a cold antipasti.

One of our favorite salad dishes is a cold pasta and shrimp salad made with bowtie pasta and lots of

16-year-old Dana Haas tops 573, wins All-American Barrel Racing title

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

Dana Haas, age 16, a junior at Hancock High School, won her second title as the Nation's All American Youth Barrel Race Champ in Jackson, MS, on June 25.

It was repeat win for Haas, as she had also won the title in 2003 on her pride and joy, She's a Power Train, nicknamed Scoot, 11-years-old.

She is the first competitor to win the title twice in the All American Youth Barrel Race Championship open to both males and females age 19 and under.

Haas, in winning the 2005 title, earned $10,000, of which she is donating $5,000 of the winnings to St. Jude Children's Hospital, she reported.

Dana's parents are Donnie and Tammy Haas, who said, "We are very proud of our daughter's accomplishments and horsemanship and her generosity."

The Championship Competition began on June 23, with a total of 574 competitors, with the field down to 279 for the finals on the night of June 25.

Dana and Scoot ran number 271 in the finals and had to top a time of 13.994 (seconds) which was run over half-way through the finals.

Her mother said, "Dana told her father, 13.9 was going to be hard to beat. He responded, 'You and Scoot can do it.' As her late draw in the race camp up, she began to become a bit nervous."

"Then it was time. She heard the announcer say, 'Next up, No. 271, Dana Haas and She's a Power Train. Folks, this team can change things.' And that they did, they stopped the clock at 13.994, the fastest run of the three days of approximately 1,400 runs. Her win was worth $10,000," Mrs. Haas

Blast in the Bay goes bowling for 2005

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Bay St. Louis Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund will change its major fund raiser from a classic car show to a 9-Pin No-Tap Adult/Youth Bowling Tournament today, Sunday, July 10 at the Park Ten Bowling Alley, Diamondhead.

For many years, car enthusiasts from Bay St.

Louis and Hancock County have assisted the Doll and Toy Fund raise monies needed to support the annual drive to provide Christmas gifts for families in need.

"It was time for a change in activities. We wanted a fund raising event that would involve children more actively, that did not compete with other existing events, and still raise adequate monies for the Doll and Toy Fund," said Louis Prendergast, local fire department Doll and Toy Fund coordinator.

For novices and bowling illiterates, a 9 Pin No-Tap tournament means if you knock down nine pins on your first roll you are credited with a strike. Each team will have one parent and one child make up the two-person team. Gender and age is not an issue for this fun type of tournament.

There will be two rounds of bowling, with prizes awarded at the end of each tournament.

Cost to participate will be $7 per person and one new toy.

"We will miss seeing the car owners and are extremely grateful for their help and support over the last seven years.

"They helped us raise public awareness for the support needed for children in Hancock County, and that our Doll and Toy Fund was a good investment," said Fire Chief Robert Garagano.

To volunteer your help for the tournament or to assist the Doll and Toy Fund please contact Prendergast, 228-467-4736.

Monde to serve as summer missionary

Victoria Monde is one of 164 university and college students who Mississippi Baptist Student Union is helping to send as a summer missionary in Oregon.

Victoria, daughter of Marjorie Monde of Bay St. Louis, is a student at University of Southern Mississippi. Each of the 164 students will have either all or a significant portion of their expenses paid by fellow students during their term of service. The Mississippi Baptist Student Union raises funds for summer missions primarily by donations from students involved in 34 BSU programs on campuses across the state. This year's budget exceeds $180,000.

Most students serve an eight to ten-week term alongside career missionaries in positions which are International Mission Board or North American Mission Board related. Fifty will serve in nine foreign countries, and 114 will work in twenty-five states and Canada.

Baptist Student Union is sponsored by the Collegiate Ministry Department of the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board and is made possible by the Cooperative Program, which is a volunteer giving plan of more than 2,000 Southern Baptist churches in Mississippi.

technology today.

The latest four-arm generation robotic surgical system allows the surgeon's hands to be translated into precise movements using highly developed micro-instruments. For the patient, this means:

- faster recovery
- shorter hospitalization
- less blood loss
- less chance of damage to critical nerves
- less pain post-surgery
- fewer complications after surgery

This technology enhances Ochsner's world-famous surgical expertise in the removal of cancerous prostate glands and is useful in a number of cardiovascular procedures. Main Street Methodist team went on a mission from God

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Main Street Methodist Church Mission Team of Bay St. Louis Served at the MS Choctaw UM Mission near Philadelphia, MS, on June 9-12, 2005.

A group of 16 volunteers (13 adults and 3 youth) from Main St. UMC, Bay St. Louis, recently did repair work and led Vacation Bible School at the MS Choctaw United Methodist Mission near Philadelphia, MS. The group chose "Shining God's Light Wherever You Are" as their VBS theme, which reflected the quadrennial emphasis of the MS Conference of the United Methodist Church of "Ari! Shine!" With Bible study and stories, songs, crafts, refreshments, recreation and worship for all ages, everyone enjoyed their time learning and being together as fellow Christians.

Many repair, cleaning and painting projects were completed. These included replacing a high wall panel in the Mission's Pushmataha Family Life Center, repairing the floor and installing new floor coverings in the future home of a community and church worker the Mission is trying to obtain to aid in its outreach to their community. Edging steps for greater visibility and doing finishing painting in the house and Family Life Center were also accomplished. Skilled workers fixed water heaters, air conditioners, miscellaneous leaks and other problems they encountered. Flexibility and reliance on God were the keys to making the experience a good and memorable one for the team members and the 25 Choctaw VBS participants.

The "Home Team" of Main St. UMC supported the "Mission Team" with their prayers and donations of supplies, nonperishable goods for the Choctaw Mission's Food Pantry, and money for Bibles, food, materials and miscellaneous items.

On Sunday, the Bay St. Louis Team joined the Choctaws in worship at the Green Hill United Methodist Church, located in the family life center facility. Especially interesting and enjoyable was the mixing of English and Choctaw languages in the worship service.

The Green Hill UMC choir sang several Choctaw hymns and all were invited to join in the singing of another.

By working together, the two groups enabled one another to reach out to those in need and do the work God has called each to do. Learning about the ways of both cultures and communities led to a better understanding and appreciation of the likenesses and differences of God's church and its ministry in the world. Side trips were made by some to the Choctaw Museum and Williams Brothers General Store. New friendships were formed. Main St. UMC is already planning a return trip next year and invites others to join them as they reach out in love and service and "shine God's light wherever they are."

added. Dana had finished 14th the first day running a time of 14.366 and seventh on the second day with a time of 14.277 earning her $478.

Dana said, "The competition was some of the toughest we've been up against. The fastest time run before the finals was a 14.013 seconds."

Dana is no stranger in barrel race competition, as also in 2003 captured the prized 22nd Martha Josie Junior World Championship in Marshall, Texas in the Senior Division, 14 to 20-year-old group.

She was the first Mississippian to take the Texas Junior title. She competed in a field of 150 riders there from across the U.S. and Canada for that title.

Haas is a self-taught Barrel Racer and trainer, who received her first horse at age five. She started by placing three barrels in a field and walking an untrained horse around the barrels. And then they began riding the course.

At age seven, she and her first horse, Boots, placed third in Mississippi competition for youth age 12 and under.

She has been riding Scoot since its purchase seven years ago. Scoot is an 11-year-old quarter horse bred in Louisiana.

Dana is a straight 'A' student in school and keeps up with Barrel Race information by reading several publications on a monthly basis.

Over the years, Dana has entered competition across Mississippi, Louisville, KY, Memphis, TN, Texas, Louisiana and Alabama.

The Kiln family spends many weekends on the road, so Dana can compete in barrel racing.

fresh ingredients as well as fresh shrimp. However, don't let the "cold" fool you. I make it spicy. I suppose an indirect attempt at stabilizing the temperature inside your tummy with the temperature outside your tummy.

Another of our favorites is cold poached fish served with a tantalizing sauce and I've included a recipe along with three sauces. Try any of these that strike your fancy. Here again, the dish is cold, but is warmed up with a nice spicy sauce that enhances the flavor of the fish. Or, not spicy. Try a nice delicate mayonnaise-based sauce flavored with lemon or one of the many fresh herbs from your garden - tarragon comes to mind most of the time. Fresh basil will also do the trick. But, if you really want to take a chance and make it "warm," a nice mango salsa flavored with fresh jalapeno peppers will send the flavor to the moon.

So, while the food may be cool in temperature, the accompaniment may be quite warm and tasty. So, it is the hot and the cold of it as you can see.

Try the recipes and experiment with the accompaniment. It will be a lot of tasty fun.

Bon Appetit.

STELLA POACHED FISH

(with three sauces)

1 bay leaf
1.5 cup chopped carrots
1.5 cup chopped celery
1 small onion stuck with 2 cloves

1 cup dry white wine
1 tsp salt
parsley
2 quarts water
2 lb. firm fillets or steaks oil for fish poacher rack

Combine all ingredients, except fish and oil, in a fish poacher and boil for about 5 minutes. Oil rack of fish poacher and place fish on rack. Submerge fish in liquid and immediately lower heat until liquid simmers. Simmer fish until tender.

The amount of time it simmers depending on thickness of fish. Remove fish, drain and place on platter cover and chill.

Serves 4 as a main course.

SAUCE #1

1.5 cup sour cream
1.5 cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. lemon juice
.5 tsp. salt
1 tbs. prepared horseradish

Mix ingredients and chill before serving.

SAUCE #2

1 cup mayonnaise
1 tbs. Dijon mustard
1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
.5 tsp. salt

Mix ingredients and chill before serving. Chill in a sealed container so the horseradish will not lose its bite.

SAUCE #3

1 cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. lemon juice
3 tbs. cocktail sauce
.5 tsp. salt

Mix all ingredients and chill before serving. Chill in a sealed container.

Serve this with a nice fresh cucumber salad, fluffy white rice and some nice bread for an excellent meal.

NOTE: If you don't have a fish poacher, you can use a pan deep enough to just cover the fish with the liquid. As with the poacher rack, the bottom of the pan should be oiled in order to make removing the fish easier. You can use any firm fish that is not oily in nature for poaching. The delicate flavor of the fish will be greatly enhanced by this cooking process and the sauces will compliment that flavor.

The three sauces are very simple to make and you can adjust the contents of any to suit your personal taste. Try whichever sauce strikes your fancy on a particular day. Please, a word of advice. Don't drown the fish in the sauce. Remember the sauce is there to compliment the fish rather than vice versa.

The Bible tells us that since we know God is always righteous, we may rightly assume that all those who do right are His children. (1 John 2:29) What more could anyone ask than to be a child of God? Parents who love and care for their children are always protective and want only what is good for them. They hate to see their children hurting one another or doing something that is wrong, and when a child is hurt or sick, a mother and father will do whatever they can to help their child recover. Like our Heavenly Father, parents only want what is good for their children. They want their children to be kind and honest, and to use their God-given talents to the best of their abilities.

In dealing with our everyday activities, it is helpful and comforting to know that we are God's children and that He wants what is good for us. Relationships between children and parents are built on love and trust, and likewise, we should strive on a daily basis to improve our relationship with God. And although we may not always understand God's ways, we should know that He loves us more than we can imagine, and that He will never leave us or forsake us. Good parents can never stop loving their children, and our perfect Father in Heaven will never stop loving us.

But to all who received Him, who believed in His name,

Tootie a human being fully alive

"Tootie, don't leave me!" Joyce Montana's passionate scream gripped those present in the City Hall Council meeting room as well as TV viewers with the pathos and wonderment of the moment.

In the midst of making his points to the Council about police/community relations, her husband, Allison Chief "Tootie" Montana, had stopped abruptly and sunk to the floor.

It was failure of his weakened heart which had been troubling him for two years that took him away in seconds despite the immediate attention of those surrounding him and in spite of the efforts of paramedics and doctors who rushed to his side.

Quickly recovering her composure shortly after Tootie's collapse and her shock, Joyce let everyone know: "Well, he was doing what he did best and what he liked best. Also, Tootie always told me he wanted to go quickly, in the twinkling of an eye. And that is exactly how he went. There was no trauma, no pain nor anything else."

Chief of Chiefs was the imposing title of the man who inherited the New Orleans Mardi Gras black Indian tradition from his father and great uncle. Officially retired after 50 years as chief in favor of his son Darryl, Chief Tootie kept coming back one year at a time, always giving in to his adoring public to "dress for one more year."

"This is my last year" became a refrain and a promise to which to one paid much attention, probably not even Tootie himself. Well, maybe he meant it, until the crush of endless pleas from his adoring public lured him out of retirement one more time.

Dressing for one more year was far more than a notion for any man, let alone one in the rarefied patriarchal atmosphere of 80 years and beyond. It required great discipline, countless hours for practically a whole year from one Mardi Gras celebration to the next, and meticulous stitching and beading up to, sometimes on, Mardi Gras day itself.

Then there was the wearing of the Mardi Gras Indian costume. Any young man would be hard put to bear up under the weight and at times the heat of one of the beaded cloth and feather costumes. The imposing head gear alone weighs in at some 150 pounds. Add the rest of the suit to the head gear, and you come to the grand total of about 300 pounds.

Tootie never got enough of the limelight, the microphones, the pictures, the videos and a public starved for superstars and entertainers. He was strictly in his element when thrust into the forefront of any event, program, forum or entertainment.

"Being out before the public was his thing," his wife Joyce reminisced. "He related to all of it. Put a microphone in front of him and all you had to do was stop him when you thought he was running a bit over. He loved that atmosphere of communication."

However, none of these things defined Tootie Montana the man. Addressing children and adolescents was another of the favorite things he liked to do. He often taught that, along with society's future, the future of all Mardi Gras traditions, such as the dressing out of the black Indians, depends on how well our youth learn and live their traditions.

Moreover, a master lather by trade and well known among the best people in plaster and stucco work, Tootie's most special thing was speaking about the skilled art of lathing. From wherever he stood at any given time, he could look around an old neighborhood and describe the intricate decorative work a lather had initiated.

Then there was Tootie the family man who never tired of speaking about his roots, his family traditions and his individual family members.

How he felt about his family members is strongly attested to by how his relatives feel about him.

Their affection, their loyalty and love for him are there clearly for everyone to see.

When you saw either Tootie or Joyce in public, you looked for the other, for they were like inseparable twins. "If one of us was alone in public," Joyce observed, "people would ask me, 'What's wrong? Where is your husband Tootie?'"

Usually, when a beloved relative or friend dies, there is an atmosphere of heaviness if not of outright sadness around the scene of the deceased person's circle of activities.

But not in this instance of Chief Tootie's transit from earth to heaven.

Such gloom is not at all in evidence among his family, relatives and friends.

St. Irenaeus, a very learned, holy bishop of the fourth century, gave an apt description of a person like Chief Tootie Montana: "The glory of God is a human being fully alive."

No matter where Tootie was, no matter what he was doing, St. Irenaeus' description fit him perfectly. How would God be best glorified in our lives? Of course, by our being all we can be in whatever we say and whatever we do; simply, by our striving to be the best and fully alive at what we do, even if we suffer shortfalls and failures.

In a word, the Chief made everything a celebration by making the most of it, investing his time, talent, energy and resources into it, and doing it the best way he knew how. This made even chores and drudgery satisfying, fulfilling, even a joy to do.

Chief Tootie discovered sacred celebration a handful of years ago here at St. Augustine Church while attending the funeral of a family member. Since celebration was already an intimate part of his attitudes and his very life, he seemed to have the feeling: "The eagle has landed!" Ever since then, he was a vital, vibrant part of our worship services.

During the celebration of every Mass, I always looked forward to my double hug of Chief Tootie and his First Lady Joyce during the rite of peace. They were always as eager and expectant as I to heighten the joy and celebration by exchanging hugs.

St. Paul certainly knew something about joyful celebration when he wrote: "Greet one another with a holy kiss." (Romans 16:16)

We will all miss the physical, social, emotional and spiritual celebratory presence of Chief Tootie among us. But, as Joyce points out: "He is still with us. We can feel his presence, his concern, his love, and he still joins us in celebrations. And, where he is, celebrations never stop."

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Doomsday comes to us all some day

It seems that all preachers have their "doomsday," or "end of the world" sermons. This morning I am going to do the same. I am going to give you a little doomsday talk.

There has been much speculation on the end of the world. Even Chicken Little thought the sky was falling, and all of the barnyard inhabitants panicked.

Every few years, we read of some religious sect who has figured out the date and hour of the end. We read about how they have disposed of their possessions and gathered together for the fateful event.

A few years ago, I read of a man who had a theory that the polar ice caps were building up to the extent that the world was increasingly wobbling on its axis and that it would soon "flip." The poles would become tropics. Now, there are those who say the polar ice caps are melting and that someday the coastline will be up around Memphis.

When I was boy, before World War II, I well remember the prophecy that the rule of Hitler and Mussolini foretold the end. Shortly after World War II, as the nation of Israel was formed, this was the predicted evidence to an early conclusion.

At any moment now in this atomic age, man is capable of destroying life on our planet in a great ball of fire.

If you listen to the Reverend

God's Apprentice

By Perry Gibson

Billy Graham, he says time and time again that we are in the "last days." The publicity of such and event can cause people to panic.

Many of you around my age can recall when Orson Welles put on the radio show "War of the Worlds." Many people who tuned in late thought the show was for real and panicked in many strange ways.

To me, it matters not if the world is destined to last a few years or a few million years. The important thing is that man was born to die, and, with in a few short years, each of us will meet his "doomsday." To me, that means that we will face Jesus.

I think that the average life span of the American male is about seventy-two or seventy-three. If I am average, that means I have from eight to ten years to wait until I meet my "doomsday." You can figure yours.

There are those who believe that we cross over immediately upon death and others who think we sleep until the final judgement. Again, this matters little to me, for if we sleep, the judgement will seem like an immediate crossover, even if it is a few million years until the end.

Let's say that we know the world would end on May 13, 1991. Those things that we value so much will suddenly lose their importance. The important thing would be for us to make peace with our fellow man and God. But, because we think that we can beat the odds, we do not believe that we are going to run out of time.

We just try to keep on accumulating things, much more than we need. We continue to call things important that are not. We keep delaying that most important decision of total commitment to our Savior, the commitment that is to affect us for eternity.

The end is coming. In Isaiah 46:9, it says, "I am God, and there is none like me, declaring the end from the beginning."

In First Corinthians 15:24, it reads, "Then comes the end, when he delivers the kingdom of God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority and power."

But the end is only the beginning for a Christian. We read in Romans 6:23 that "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Jesus Christ our Lord."

I could go on, but though the world should last for a few million years, or "doomsday" is just around the corner or just over the hill. Our time for preparing for this journey is short and getting shorter with each breath we take and each tick of the clock.

Luke 12:16-21: And He told them this parable: "The ground of a certain rich man produced a good crop. He thought to himself, 'What shall I do? I have no place to store my crops.'"

Then he said, "This is what I will do. I will tear down my barns and build bigger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods. And I'll say to myself, 'You have plenty of good things laid up for many years. Take life easy: eat, drink, and be merry.'"

But God said to him, "You fool! This very night your life will be demanded from you. Then who will get what you have prepared for yourself?"

This is how it will be with anyone who stores up things for himself but is not very rich toward God.

Bedtime will come early in Pass Christian next weekend. Outrageous beds of all shapes and sizes will be speeding through downtown Saturday, July 16 at 5 p.m. for the first annual bed race of Pass Christian.

What is a bed race? Teams will race against each other for the best time and the best decorated in a bed they have built and designed. There is a race division for different age groups. Boys and girls, men and women, businesses, and clubs are welcome to participate in this race. The zanier the bed, the better.

The PC Blue Ribbon Bed Race is a part of the "The Pass in the Night" which is a tri-annual celebration held in downtown Pass Christian. It is sponsored by the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce and occurring the third Saturday of the months of April, July, and October between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Open to everyone of all ages, "Pass in the Night" has a family atmosphere with lots to do. If you love to compete, don't miss joining in the amateur cooking contest with judging by invited celebrity judges. July's food theme is shrimp and crab. Prizes will be awarded for best dish and most spirited.

The July 16th event will feature the music of "Red Velvet" with Lorinda Daniels playing jazz, pop, and dance sounds. The Pass Christian Public School Choir lead by David Chavers will perform Broadway highlights. Local businesses and shop owners will be holding open house.

The Youth Ms. and Master Pass Christian Beauty Pageant will be held on Scenic Drive for babies to age 18 years old.

Other activities of interest include fun and games for the youth. The police and fire departments will have a fire truck and police car available for the children to explore. The Pass Christian Police will be offering security child fingerprinting.

In addition, Pass Christian Books is hosting a book signing for a visiting author; there will also be various art and jewelry vendors and lots of great food and beverages. Lazy Magnolia Brewery will be selling beer and Tigre's will open their patio for margaritas and specialty drinks. Lucio's Mexican Restaurant will serve some of their specialties.

Revolutions, a local clothing shop and Beaches Hair Design have teamed up with volunteer models for the Pass-In-Style Show, presenting the latest in local clothing and hairstyles. Selected individuals will even get a haircut and style

ZZ Top brings North American tour to Gulfport July 30

THE SEA COAST ECHO
ZZ TOP embarked June 2nd on a 24-week long North American tour. The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductees will begin their mammoth excursion in central California, going on to criss-cross the country with their trademark tone, taste and tenacity. The will perform in Gulfport on July 30 at the Grand Casino.

This summer's run is considerably more extensive than last year's ZZ TOP tour with additional U.S. and Canadian dates and markets slated. "We're looking forward to hitting the trail again," notes the band's Billy F. Gibbons. "As long as the audiences are happy with the same three guys doing the same three chords, we're there."

ZZ TOP's Summer '05 Tour will highlight material from their most recent RCA album Mescalero as well as the body of work that is chronicled in the 2-CD set Rancho Texicano and 4-CD box set Chrome, Smoke & BBQ from Warner Bros. "Gibbons, Hill and Beard played the hot and heavy blues-rock as if they invented the style," raved the Syracuse Post Standard of their 2004 show. The Milwaukee Sentinel noted, "ZZ Top is one mighty strange band. Or, more precisely, it is in a class all by itself."

Internationally known as "that little ol' band from Texas," ZZ TOP will celebrate its thirty-sixth anniversary later this year. With the original line up intact, they can handily lay claim to being the longest-running road show in American rock history.

As well as a distinctive guitar sound and hard-driving, innuendo-laced lyrics (many of which are about places and events in their home state of Texas), the band is probably best known for its distinctive look. Gibbons and Hill are always pictured wearing sunglasses, trenchcoats and their trademark waist-length beards. (Frank Beard, interestingly, does not wear a beard.) In 1984, the Gillette company offered Gibbons and Hill $1 million apiece to shave their beards for a commercial, but they declined.

The band first gained wide attention with their "Tres Hombres" album, which contained the classic song "La Grange," referencing the same bordello that is the subject of "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas." They reached new heights of popularity with the 1983 album Eliminator, boosted to prominence by music videos for the tracks "Gimme All Your Lovin'" "Legs" and "Sharp Dressed Man," each of which featured a small bright red vintage coupe called The Eliminator and a mysterious trio of beautiful women who travel around helping various people in the videos. The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inducted ZZ Top in on March 15, 2004.

Exhibit of Mixed Media by Vicki Niolet

The exhibit of new works by Bay St. Louis artist Vicki Niolet at Maggie May's this July takes its inspiration from a quote, "Arrange whatever pieces come your way" by Virginia Woolf. Niolet has spent over twenty-two years arranging "pieces" of materials and techniques into collage, constructions and assemblages, developing her own distinctive style and audience.

Known primarily as a papermaker, Niolet was also trained in photography, ceramics, and weaving. She uses various aspects of each of these techniques in her three-dimensional assemblages to evoke mixed emotions from her audience.

Old metal and wooden boxes, and hand-built clay altars provide intimate settings for found and fabricated objects. She applies her background in ceramics to make clay faces, hands, and hearts into reliquaries distressed and inscribed with handwritten and photographic images. Odd assortments of normally abandoned objects are recycled in the new context of a mixed media box construction. Sometimes whimsical and sometimes cynical, the themes usually produce an unexpected humorous response.

Recently she extended her own definition of three-dimensional art in "Sight, Sound, and Thought", an exhibit of music boxes at MS Gulf Coast Community College in Biloxi. Niolet says that "Three dimensional" normally describes height, width, and depth. However, the three dimensions I like to apply to my music boxes are sight, sound, and thought. First, you should look at the piece. Then you should listen to the tune and associate the title of the song with the stuff in the box. Finally, you should connect the title of the piece with the song and all the images of the piece.

Niolet has been showing her work regionally along the Gulf Coast and in the Southeast, winning Best of Show at ArtsQuest Fine Arts Festival and awards of excellence at the Mount Dora Arts Festival and Destin Arts Festival. This April, she marked a milestone by participating in the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival for the eleventh time as an exhibiting artist in the Contemporary Crafts section.

The exhibit "Arrange Whatever Pieces Come Your Way" will run until August 10 at Maggie May's, 126 Main Street in Old Town Bay St. Louis. An artist's reception will be held on Second Saturday, July 9, from 5 until 8 p.m. For more information please contact John or David at 463-1670.

HURRICANE TRACKING MAP FREE TAKE ONE

WHEN A HURRICANE WATCH IS ISSUED:

- Check often for official bulletins on radio and television.
- When a hurricane watch is issued, it means there is danger of the hurricane hitting within 36 hours.
- Gas up your vehicle.
- Check mobile home tie-downs.
- Moor small craft or move them to shelter.
- Stock up on canned provisions.
- Check supplies of needed medicines and drugs.
- Check batteries for radios and flashlights.
- Secure lawn furniture and other loose outdoor material.
- Board or shutter windows to prevent shattering.
- Make plans early for the special needs of elderly or handicapped family members.
- Plan for your pets as they are not permitted in public shelters.
- Store drinking water in clean bathtubs, jugs, bottles and cooking utensils.
- Get enough cash to last a few days if you evacuate; banks may be closed several days.
- Keep adequate cleaning supplies on hand for clean up and emergency repairs.
- Plan the route you will take if you must leave. Have an alternate route set, too.
- Find out where the nearest shelter will be, and make sure it is open before you leave.
- If you haven't already, inventory your property. List and photograph, also video will help if you receive damage.
- Keep important papers in a safe deposit box, waterproof container or trunk of your car.
- Plan ahead to stay with relatives who live inland, or make other arrangements.

WHEN A WARNING IS ISSUED:

- Stay tuned to radio and television.
- When hurricane warning is issued, it means there is a danger of the hurricane hitting within 24 hours.
- If an order to evacuate is issued for your area, secure your property and evacuate using your family plan or go to the nearest public shelter.

See Inside For Tracking Map and Local Sponsors...

STAY OR LEAVE:

This should be in your family plan:

- If you live in a mobile home or in a low lying area, near a river that could flood, you should leave.
- If you live on high ground and in a sturdy home, you might consider staying.
- Remember, if you stay, there are other elements to consider; there are plenty of tornadoes in a hurricane, lightning that could set your house on fire.

IF YOU STAY HOME:

- Board up windows and doors (allowing for emergency exits).
- Turn up refrigerator to maximum cold.
- Use phone only for emergencies.
- Stay indoors, away from windows.
- Opening the door to your attic will help equalize pressure on the roof.

BEFORE YOU LEAVE:

- Leave early - in daylight, if possible.
- Take special need items: medical, etc.
- Take small valuables and papers, but travel light.
- Use local shelters only as a last resort. Before you leave home: Shut off water, gas and electricity at main stations. If you evacuate, do not leave your pets unattended. (Pets are not allowed in shelters.) Have in mind pre-plan arrangements for your animals prior to the hurricane. For complete information on pet disaster preparedness tips, contact your local chapter of the Humane Society. Lock up house.
- Drive carefully.

IF YOU USE A PUBLIC SHELTER:

- Expect limited space at the shelter.
- Provide for your own needs: - Clothes - Food - Baby formula, diapers - Medicines, other special need items - Blankets, pillows - Toys to occupy children.
- Be prepared to cope. The shelter will be crowded and noisy.
- Volunteer to help.
- Be aware that some folks, by virtue of physical or mental condition, can become disoriented in a shelter environment.
- Obey the directions of the shelter management.
- DO NOT BRING PETS.
- DO NOT BRING ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES.
- DO NOT BRING FIREARMS.
- Stay put until told that you may leave. People will not be allowed back in evacuated areas until advised by official public announcement.

WEATHER TERMS YOU NEED TO KNOW:

- Tropical Depression -
A tropical cyclone in which the maximum sustained surface wind is 38 mph (33 knots) or less.
- Tropical Storm -
A tropical cyclone in which the maximum sustained surface wind is 39-73 mph (34-63 knots).
- Hurricane Watch -
An announcement for an area that a hurricane or hurricane conditions may pose a threat to coastal areas within 36 hours.
- Hurricane Warning -
A warning that sustained winds of 74 mph (64 knots) or higher associated with a hurricane is expected within 24 hours or less.

STORM SURGE:

An abnormal rise in sea level produced by a hurricane. Storm surges can be from four feet above normal to as high as 20 feet or more. Waves still continue above the storm surge. This combination of high water and strong seas can be deadly. The storm surge accounts for the most deaths during a hurricane.

HELPFUL HINTS TO SURVIVE A HURRICANE:

1. Being prepared is the key.
2. Stay calm, heed all warnings.
3. Underestimate, and you lose.
4. Evacuation, do it early - know how and when.
5. Stock pile non-perishable food (for 2 weeks).
6. Set up and keep a first-aid kit. First-aid knowledge is important.
7. Fire danger is high in a storm.
8. Disease is a threat in the aftermath.
9. Have a battery operated radio; keep fresh batteries handy.
10. Prior personal planning is essential.
11. Obtain enough cash to last several days (as banks may be closed).

HAVE A FAMILY DISASTER PLAN:

Where will your family be when disaster strikes? They could be anywhere - at work, at school, or in the car. How will you find each other? Will you know if your children are safe? Disaster may force you to evacuate your neighborhood or confine you to your home. What would you do if basic services - water, gas, electricity or telephones were cut off?

FOLLOW THESE BASIC STEPS TO DEVELOP A FAMILY DISASTER PLAN ...

1. Gather information about all hazards in your area.
2. Meet with your family to create a plan.
3. Implement your plan when a hurricane watch is declared for your area. Complete implementation when a hurricane warning is declared for your area. Plan the route you will take if you must leave. Have an alternative route. Tune into your local radio stations for available shelter information.
4. Practice and maintain your plan. Test smoke detectors monthly and change batteries every six months.
5. Arrange for one family member not in your area to notify friends and family of your whereabouts and status.

Movie: Casper Meets Wendy
Hillary Duff plays the good little witch of comic-book fame in this 1998 made-for-video sequel to "Casper." While vacationing at a resort with her aunts (Cathy Moriarty, Shelley Long, Teri Hatcher), she meets Casper, the friendly ghost, who's staying there with his three uncles. Wendy's aunts don't trust ghosts, and Casper's uncles have a similar prejudice against witches, but the two friends defy their guardians to stop an evil warlock (George Hamilton).

Monday

8 a.m. and USA

Movie: I.Q.

Walter Matthau stars as Albert Einstein in this 1994 campus-based comedy. Determined to put a little romance into the life of his brainy niece (Meg Ryan), the physicist helps a handsome mechanic (Tim Robbins) convince her he's a scientist instead. Lou Jacobi, Gene Saks and Joseph Maher also star.

Friday

9:45 a.m. on HBO

Movie: Hamlet

Director Franco Zeffirelli's robust 1990 production of the Shakespeare classic stars Mel Gibson in a strong, intelligent performance as the Danish prince, played here with great energy and without the customary melancholy. Co-starring are Glenn Close as Gertrude; Alan Bates as Claudius; Paul Scofield as the Ghost; Ian Holm as Polonius; Helena Bonham-Carter as Ophelia; and Stephen Dillane as Horatio.

Saturday

1 p.m. on FAM

Movie: Short Circuit

It's a toss-up as to who has the funnier lines in this delightful 1986 comedy: adorable, almost-human robot Number 5 or language-mangling Ben (Fisher Stevens). The robot is an experimental model that becomes more than the sum of its parts when a bolt of lightning brings it to life. Steve Guttenberg plays the scientist who designed the robot and has to get it back before assorted disasters ensue. Ally Sheedy also stars.

Sunday Best Bets

2:30 p.m. on 6-NBC
NASCAR Racing

Without a win in his first 15 starts this season before breaking through in Sonoma, Calif., two weeks ago, maybe Tony Stewart will pull out another trick from his arsenal in tonight's USG Sheetrock 400 at Chicagoland Speedway. Last year here, Stewart hit front-runner Kasey Kahne from behind on a restart, causing an eight-car wreck and plenty of bad feelings toward NASCAR's resident bad boy. Stewart ended up winning and was roundly booed afterward.

5:15 p.m. and AMC
Movie: Airplane!

This 1980 comedy from Jim Abrahams and David and Jerry Zucker launched a run of wacky parody films, the comic career of veteran dramatic actor Leslie Nielsen and a host of catchphrases, including "I am serious, and don't call me Shirley" and " ... but that's not important right now." Robert Hays stars as the traumatized ex-military pilot forced to land a commercial airliner whose crew is taken ill. Julie Hagerty also stars.

6 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
Malcolm in the Middle

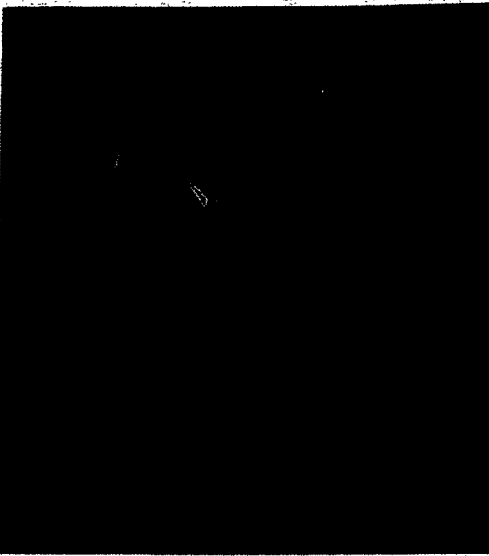

Stevie's (Craig Lamar Taylor) mom, Kitty (guest star Merin Dungey), asks Lois (Jane Kazmarek) to help her reconcile with her husband, Abe (guest star Gary Anthony Williams). Instead, Lois calls her "creepy" for leaving her family. When Abe confronts Lois about the insult, she refuses to apologize, causing a feud between the families. Francis (Christopher Masterson) subjects Dewey (Erik Per Sullivan) to a painful ritual in "Kitty's Back."

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
The Simpsons

The arrival of a junk-food vending machine at Springfield Elementary is good news to Bart (voice of Nancy Cartwright) but bad news for his heart—not to mention his weight. When Marge's (voice of Julie Kavner) efforts to slim him down at home fail, she and Homer ship him off to a weight-loss camp and convert their home to a hostel for German tourists to pay for it. Albert Brooks provides the voice of the camp operator in "The Heartbreak Kid."

7:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
The Princess of Malibu

Brandon and Brody Jenner, sons of Olympic decathlete Bruce Jenner, are going for a gold medal in slacking. And their stepfather, composer and music producer David Foster, is tired of supporting them and wants them to find jobs or find new digs.

Christine Lahti and Daniel Baldwin

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Desperate Housewives

The neighborhood's residents are worried in the aftermath of a break-in in "Come In, Stranger." Bothered by Mike's (James Denton) supposed lack of interest, Susan (Teri Hatcher) goes on a date with a police officer (guest star Steven Eckholdt). Breë (Marcia Cross) gets close to young Zach (Cody Kasch).

8 p.m. on 4-CBS
Movie: Open House

Based on the Elizabeth Berg book, this 2003 drama stars Emmy and Oscar winner Christine Lahti as a family woman deserted by her husband (Chris Potter). Needing money, she turns her home into a boardinghouse and falls for the man (Daniel Baldwin) who helps one of her tenants (Rita Moreno) move in. Eva Marie Saint and designer Colin Cowie ("Everyday Elegance") co-star.

MLB Baseball

It's not just an exhibition anymore. Home-field advantage in the World Series is the prize when baseball's best line Comerica Park in Detroit for the 76th All-Star Game. The American League won last year, which helped the Boston Red Sox sweep the St. Louis Cardinals in the Fall Classic. You'll see some of those same players tonight — guys such as Jason Varitek, David Ortiz and Albert Pujols — in this spectacle that the AL hasn't lost since 1993.

7 p.m. on 28-ABC on 13-ABC
My Wife and Kids

Jay (Tisha Campbell-Martin) is going away for a weekend of yoga and meditation and wants Michael (Damon Wayans) to come along. He's not thrilled with the idea but agrees to accompany her. He probably should have stayed home, as it's a silent retreat and he's having a big problem keeping his mouth shut. T.J. Thyme ("Erin Brockovich") and Jennifer Elise Cox ("The Brady Bunch Movie") guest star in "Silence Is Golden."

7:30 p.m. on 28-ABC on 13-ABC
George Lopez

George and Angie (George Lopez, Constance Marie) learn that Carmen's (Masfela Lusha) boyfriend, Jason (Bryan Fisher), is home alone because his parents have moved out of the country. Kimberly Williams-Paisley and Larry Joe Campbell also star.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS
Wide Angle

The documentary series specializing in international stories returns for a fourth season with "Beslan: Siege of School No. 1." In September 2004, Chechen separatists took 1,000 people hostage at a school in Beslan, Russia. The crisis lasted three days and ended in the deaths of several hundred, many of them children. After the film, host Bill Moyers discusses the event and its implications for U.S. foreign policy and the war on terrorism.

8 p.m. on USA

Movie: Ronin

Director John Frankenheimer's ("The Manchurian Candidate") last theatrical film was this fine, European-flavored 1998 melodrama. A mysterious briefcase is pursued by several Cold War veterans: Robert De Niro and Jean Reno play two of the former spies trying to retrieve the container. The international cast also includes Jonathan Pryce and Natascha McElhone ("Solaris").

8:30 p.m. on 28-ABC on 13-ABC

8:45 p.m. on HBO

Movie: The Matrix Reloaded

Visual innovations remain the high points of this 2003 middle chapter of the filmmaking Wachowski brothers sci-fi trilogy. Neo especially is concerned about Trinity, whom his dreams suggest is doomed. Hugo Weaving also returns; Jada Pinkett Smith and Monica Bellucci are cast additions.

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

That '70s Show

Lindsay Lohan was such a hot movie commodity at the time, her TV guest appearance might have seemed surprising... except for the fact that she was dating this show's Wilmer Valderrama. In "Mother's Little Helper," she plays a beauty-salon patron who attracts employee Fez (Valderrama), Kelso (Ashton Kutcher) also displays interest in her, making romantic rivals of the two pals.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Brat Camp

If the title and premise of this reality series sound familiar, that's because it's been done, on British television and on the cable channel ABC Family. It follows nine out-of-control teens whose parents have sent them to a tough wilderness camp to straighten them out. In the two-hour premiere, the kids get an exhausting welcome to camp in the form of a 10-mile hike with 40-pound backpacks.

7:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Stacked

Tony Hale ("Arrested Development") guest stars in "Beat the Candidate" as Brent, a new employee at the bookstore, Gavin (Elon Gold) realizes after hiring him that there isn't room for both Brent and Skyler (Pam Anderson) on the payroll, so Skyler tries to prove herself the better employee. It'll be a tough fight, though, as Brent has quite the competitive streak. Brian Scolaro and Marissa Jaret Winokur also star.

7:30 p.m. on 19-PBS

Cooking Under Fire

The reality series — a kinder, gentler "Hell's Kitchen" — concludes with the two remaining contestants preparing a six-course meal as their "final exam." The one who creates the better spread is rewarded with a job as chef at a New York restaurant owned by Todd English, who is part of the panel of judges that also includes Ming Tsai and Michael Ruhlman.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The Inside

Rebecca (Rachel Nichols) and her VCU colleagues try to track down a serial killer with an interesting "signature" — biting the nails off his victims. Web (Peter Coyote) is being investigated, but he conducts his own search for the suspect. Jay Harrington, Katie Finnerman, Adam Baldwin and Nelsan Ellis also star in the new episode "Declared."

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

The King of Queens

Carrie (Leah Remini) decides to spend part of the raise she's received at work on help around the house. She hires a housekeeper (guest star Zilah Men-doza) who speaks Spanish. Doug (Kevin James) gets frustrated trying to communicate with her and hires his own housekeeper. Spence's (Patton Oswalt) mom, Veronica (Anna Meara), Arthur (Jerry Stiller) finds Veronica's new position alluring, and the two hook up in "Domestic Disturbance."

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

American Masters

The new episode "George Stevens: A Filmmaker's Journey" remembers the director, producer and cinematographer whose credits read like a list of the greatest movies ever made. He was nominated for five best director Oscars, winning two — for "Giant" and "A Place in the Sun" — and he shot the only known color footage of the Normandy landing, the liberation of Paris and the Allies' arrival at Dachau. This tribute is the work of his son, George Jr.

8 p.m. on HBO

Mantle

Baseball great Mickey Mantle, who died 10 years ago this summer, is remembered in this new documentary. Family members, teammates and others reflect on the man considered the best switch-hitter in the sport's history. Sadly, he was not as adept with personal matters as he was on the field, but he turned himself around late in life. Those interviewed include his widow, his sons, sportscaster Bob Costas and New York Yankees owner George Steinbrenner.

Locke (Terry O'Quinn) has an ulterior motive for helping Charlie (Dominic Monaghan) overcome his drug problem in "The Moth." Jack (Matthew Fox) is buried alive when a cave collapses. Sayid, Kate and Boone (Naveen Andrews, Evangeline Lilly, Ian Somerhalder) face possible opposition in trying to trace the French transmission.

Online dating has come a long way in the past few years. Once perceived as a last resort for losers, it's now a $40 billion industry that attracts people from all walks of life. This new five-part documentary series follows 12 women through the internet dating scene, with all its disappointments — an e-mail rejection from a potential Mr. Right, some first-date shockers — and triumphs.

CSI: Crime Scene Investigation

In "Big Middle," Catherine, Nick, and Warrick (Mary Helgenberger, George Eads, Gary Dourdan) trace a shooting victim to a sports betting operation, thanks in part to a colony of beavers who have recycled some incriminating evidence into building material. The death of a hotel guest leads Gil and Sara (William B. Davis, Jorja Fox) to a convention of obese people, two of whom are possible suspects in the man's demise.

In "Casualties of War," gold is discovered in the Black Hills; and storekeeper Robert (Warren Blosjo) finds a new source of

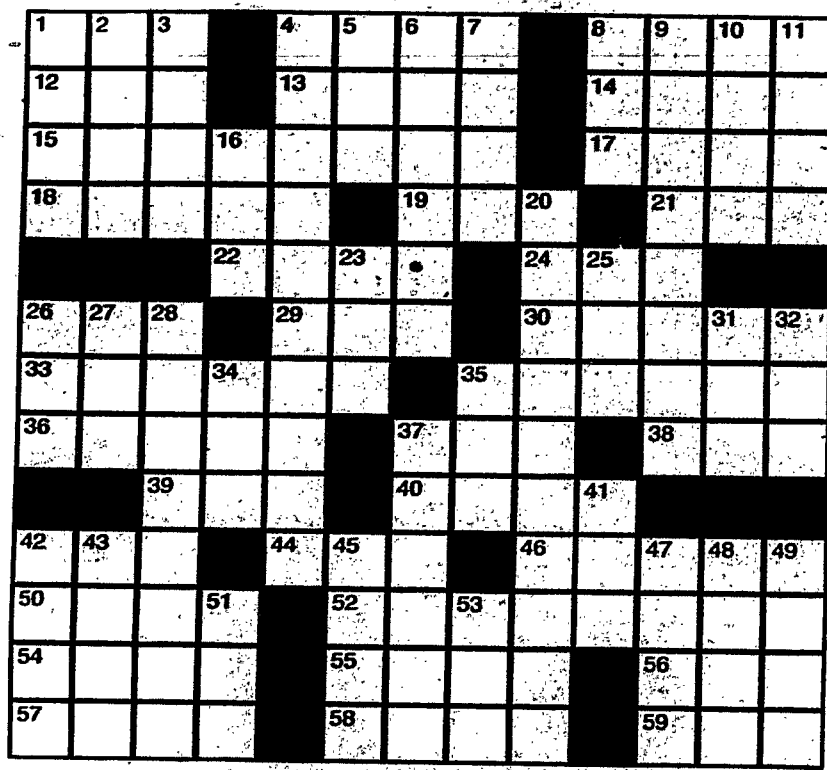

A young Marine goes on a solo rampage against an insurgent stronghold in Iraq. He'd been suffering from combat stress, but a Navy psychiatrist declared him recovered. Now the doctor is facing a court-martial and malpractice charges for allegedly sending the young man back into action too soon. The case puts Harm and Mac (David James Elliott, Catherine Bell) on opposite sides in "Fit for Duty."

Law & Order: Trial by Jury
A transvestite is killed, and two men — a father and son — both confess to the murder, for very different reasons. The son (guest star Victor Rasuk) claims he stabbed the victim because he was upset at discovering "he" was a man. Dad (guest star Giancarlo Esposito) says he did it in self-defense.

The whole Hennessy household seems to be hiding things in "Secrets." Rory (Martin Spanners) won't say who

In Focus

Brody and Brandon Jenner are living "the life" - until their stay-at-home, music composer-producer David Foster, insists they make meaningful contributions to the household in "The Princess of Malibu," an unscripted Fox series premiering Sunday, July 10.

The sons of '70s Olympic hero Bruce Jenner, the boys have a defender in their mom, Linda Thompson ... but even she finds it tough in the first episode when Brody's 21st birthday party gets out of hand and makes a near-shambles of the family estate.

If there's no other recourse for celebrities no longer at the top of their respective games, there's always "The Surreal Life," the unscripted VH1 series that begins a new round with controversial baseball veteran Jose Canseco and others Sunday, July 10.

Omarosa Manigault Stallworth, the would-be "Apprentice" people loved to hate, is among the other new housemates ... so you can count the seconds until the fireworks begin. Actor Bronson Pinchot and models Janice Dickinson and Caprice also participate.

5 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Matchstick Men

The arrival of a con man's alleged daughter isn't well-timed for the supposed dad in director Ridley Scott's enjoyable 2003 comedy-drama. Nicolas Cage plays the skilled but obsessive-compulsive swindler approached by a young woman (Alison Lohman, "Big Fish") who wants to get to know not only him, but the tricks of his trade. Sam Rockwell ("Confessions of a Dangerous Mind") also stars as Cage's literal partner in crime.

7 p.m. on 25-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: The Princess Diaries

A modern variation on "Cinderella," director Barry Marshall's charming 2001 comedy stars Anie Hathaway ("Get Real") as a shy, unsophisticated teen whose desire to stay under the radar is trashed by the news that she's a member of royalty. Her long-estranged grandmother (an ideally cast Julie Andrews) tries to train her to take over the monarchy. Singer-acress Mandy Moore co-stars.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Movie: Godzilla

This 1998 remake of the cheesy '50s monster classic was panned by most critics, but the special effects are, in a word, awesome. In this version, the larger-than-life lizard doesn't lumber; he sprints. And he doesn't trample on Tokyo; he takes Manhattan, where there are bigger buildings to stomp. Matthew Broderick and Maria Plilio are the human stars, but the big G and his offspring—a passel of cute little 8-foot Godzillalets—steal the show.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: NY

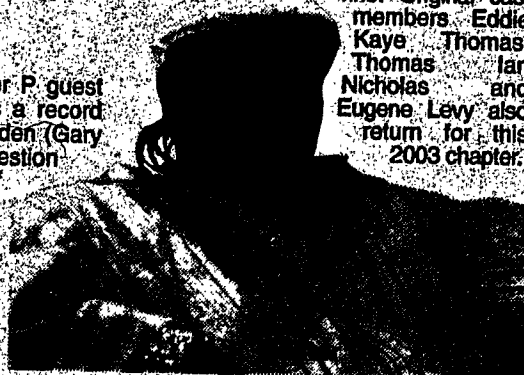

Hip-hop impresario Master P guest stars in "Grand Master," as a producer whom Mac and Aidan (Gary Sinise, Vanessa Ferlito) question about the stabbing death of a hip-hop artist he'd recently signed. The death of a fashion designer from blow-fish poisoning leads Danny and Stella (Carminne Glover, Inazzo, Melina Kanakaredes) to a sushi restaurant where naked women give new meaning to the term "fish."

9:15 p.m. on HBO

Movie: American Wedding

The third installment of the "American Pie" comedy series tones down the gross-out quotient a bit, owing to the sweeter-than-usual story of Jim and Michelle's (Jason Biggs, Alyson Hannigan) impending marriage. Ever-dawdy Stiller (Samm Williams) Scott) is still around, though, to make sure things don't get too saccharine. Original cast members Eddie Kaye Thomas, Ian Nicholas, and Eugene Levy also return for this 2003 chapter.
